

MAY HAVE SHOT SAGOUNI

Armenian Arrested in Boston Held as a Fugitive From Justice.

ACCUSED OF OTHER CRIMES.

Editor of Young Armenia Says the Man in Custody Tried to Assassinate Him in England Several Months Ago.

Boston, Oct. 31.—On the arrival here of the steamer Ivernia, Yekta Krikorian, the Armenian who was arrested at the request of Scotland Yard on a charge of being an accessory before the fact of the murder of Sagouni in London on Tuesday, has been held for a hearing before a United States commissioner. Krikorian said that he came here to attend lectures at Harvard.

The prisoner denied any knowledge of a conspiracy to kill Sagouni and appeared surprised to hear of the tragedy. He admitted that he knew the murdered man and that he had attended several meetings of the Revolutionary society in London.

He denied that he belonged to any revolutionary societies. Krikorian said he was thirty years of age and a graduate of the American college in Constantinople. For the last three years, he told the officers, he had lived in London, maintaining himself by journalistic correspondence and other writings. He expected to cover his expenses at Harvard by journalistic work in sending to Constantinople papers from American columns.

Bostonians Accuse Krikorian.

Peter Kureghian, editor of Young Armenia, and Peter Kazarounas of Boston have volunteered information to the Boston police that they know the Armenian under arrest. These men, the police say, stated that Krikorian is head of a London central committee of Armenians, and Kureghian claimed also, according to the police, that Krikorian ordered the murder of Kureghian and attempted personally to assassinate him several months ago when the latter was editing a paper in London. The Boston men were taken to the federal court to appear as witnesses when the Armenian case was called.

The exact charge upon which Krikorian was arrested and held was that of being a fugitive from justice in England. There is no specific charge declaring him to be connected with the Sagouni murder. C. A. P. Talbot, the British consul at Boston, stated that he had telegraphed to the British embassy at Washington for instructions in the case.

Rev. James L. Barton, secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, was asked if the records of the board showed that Krikorian was, as he claimed, a graduate of the American college at Constantinople. Dr. Barton said that the board had no such record, though, Dr. Barton said, it was probable that the Armenian under arrest might be a graduate from Roberts college at Constantinople.

Masked Robbers Beat Aged Couple.

Gallipolis, O., Oct. 31.—Two masked robbers forced an entrance into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hallday Hysell of Addison and beat them terribly in an endeavor to make the couple tell where their money was secreted. Their screams attracted the attention of Wyatt Link, a neighbor, who, on entering the house, was shot in the abdomen and seriously wounded. The robbers escaped. Mr. and Mrs. Hysell are in a serious condition.

Queen Draga's Brother Rearrested.

Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 31.—After a long search Captain Lantjevics, brother of the late Queen Draga, has been rearrested. He was captured in the laundry room of the fort here. The arrest of General Magdelic and other officers is imminent. It is understood that a new plot has been discovered against the murderers of King Alexander and Queen Draga.

Prominent Freeholders Asphyxiated.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Horace L. Green and his wife were found dead in bed here, the result of asphyxiation. Green was the publisher of the Free Thought Magazine. He was seventy-five and his wife seventy years old. The police were inclined to believe there had been a double suicide. Later developments tended to show that the aged couple were the victims of an accident. A gas jet was found partially open.

HOME AND MONEY GONE.

This Woman Tells How Father John's Medicine Saved Her Life.

"Many times I have wished I could stand on the housetop and tell the world what a blessing Father John's Medicine has been to my family. All my life I've been doctoring. I had systemic catarrh, and four years ago pneumonia made a wreck of me. O, how I suffered. God above knows. I brought my family to want paying doctors' bills. My bureau was full of medicine bottles. I have had six doctors, but my cough was killing me. Every few weeks I had hemorrhages. My doctors gave me up, and my friends looked for me to die. For my children's sake I hoped and prayed to get well. I saw home and money gone, but no relief. I thank God for directing my attention to Father John's Medicine. I can do all my work, and feel like a new person, since taking it. It is a blessing; may it be to all who suffer the wish of one it has helped. (Signed) Mrs. H. McFee, 2100 Randolph St., Phila., Pa."

PARKS CASE CLOSING.

Both Sides Rest and Defense Begin Summing Up.

New York, Oct. 31.—Both sides rested in the trial of Sam Parks, the walking delegate, for extortion, and Mr. Osborne, Parks' counsel, commenced his summing up.

Sam Parks admitted that he took $500 from Louis Schmidt, treasurer of the Tiffany Studio company, to settle a strike and also that he had told Schmidt to tell Jerome. He admitted everything the prosecution's witnesses charged except where such admission would have contradicted his lawyer's statement that the money was paid for the benefit of Parks' union. No proof that it was paid for the union was submitted.

Parks said that the transaction with the Tiffany people was aboveboard and that his message to Jerome showed that he had nothing to conceal. He said that for eight years he has been the business agent or walking delegate of the Housewives' and Bridgemen's union, that his salary has been $45 a week and that nobody had left him a fortune.

Mr. Rand tried to get into evidence the fact that in January last Parks went to the Garfield National bank with $17,000, of which he deposited $11,000, that with the remaining $6,000 he took a trip to a health resort, and that after his return he drew out the $11,000 on May 4. Judge Newburger did not allow him to go into this matter. Assistant District Attorney Rand had with him in court Mr. Snow of the Garfield National bank.

Laid His Head on the Rail.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 31.—John Moore, a member of the Dutchess county bar, committed suicide by lying down on the Poughkeepsie and Eastern railroad tracks, in the suburbs of the city and allowing a train to hit him. When the early train left here Moore was sitting on the tracks. He refused to heed a warning whistle, and the train was stopped and the engineer and fireman took him off the track. When a later incoming train appeared Moore lay with his head on one rail. The engineer blew his whistle and the man raised his head, but immediately lay back, and the engine struck him, fracturing his skull and killing him instantly.

On Trial For Wife Murder.

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Oscar Bergstrom, a Swede, also known as Jacob Toback, has been placed on trial here before Judge Gaynor and a jury for the murder of his wife on April 13 last. He also tried to kill his sixteen-year-old stepdaughter, but she fled to the home of a neighbor. Bergstrom then cut his own throat, and it was at first believed he would die. His counsel admit the killing, but they will set up a defense of insanity.

Well Known Distiller Murdered.

Vincennes, Ind., Oct. 31.—In his own home William J. Engle, secretary of the Vincennes Distilling company, was shot Thursday night and has died from the wounds. Engle had risen to take a train for St. Louis. He was dressing to go to the station when he heard a noise in the kitchen. He went downstairs, and as he reached the kitchen he was met by a volley of shots. Two bullets entered his head. His assailants are unknown.

Hard Winter For Brickmakers.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Fourteen hundred brickmakers have been laid off in Cook county and when given their pay were told there would be no more work until late next spring. Four hundred will be discharged in December, and the industry in this district will be closed down. The prevalence of strikes and the increased cost of building in Chicago practically has stopped all construction work.

Kentucky Lawyer's Awful Death.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 31.—Attorney William H. Julian, one of the best known tax lawyers in Kentucky, was burned to death at midnight in his office. It is presumed Mr. Julian stumbled as he entered his room and fell into an open fireplace, before which the body was found. The upper portion of the body was burned almost to a crisp and barely recognizable.

President of Haitian Senate Arrested.

Port au Prince, Haiti, Oct. 31.—M. Stewart, president of the senate, who is charged with having participated in the division of the issue of $200,000 fraudulent Haitian securities early in the year, has been arrested. Senators Caurin and Malebranche, against whom the same charge is made, have fled from Port au Prince.

Cotton Jumps in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 31.—The cotton market opened down, but as a result of the posting of a sensationally bad weather bureau forecast prices were boosted from 21 to 22 points above the lowest level of the morning and from 16 to 17 points above the closing prices. Bulls were predicting that cotton would reach 15 cents.

Ruthenians Leave Austrian Diet.

Denver, Oct. 31.—A special to The Ruthenian members of the diet have resigned in a body because the government has refused to sanction the establishment of a Ruthenian gymnasium at Sanislau, Galicia, claiming that it was only desired as a means for promoting racial warfare.

Pittsburg Banks to Reopen.

Pittsburg, Oct. 31.—It is confidently expected that the First National bank of Allegheny and the Federal National bank of Pittsburg, the two institutions temporarily embarrassed during the recent financial slump, will be able to reopen as soon as the receivers' reports are filed.

CONDITION OF TRADE

A Considerable Increase in Industrial Activity.

MONEY MARKET UNSETTLED

Financial Storm Center Shifts to St. Louis — Securities Exhibit Firm Undertone—Railway Earnings Large.

New York, Oct. 31.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Industrial activity has increased somewhat, many plants resuming and others preparing to reopen on Monday. Several pending labor controversies have reached amicable adjustment, adding to the aggregate of wage earners employed. On the other hand, strikes are ordered, and some mills will be closed by lack of new business, while the struggle for control of the copper properties has thrown thousands out of work. While there is evidence of a setback in the steel industry and some hesitation in textiles at the east the general tenor of these reports is encouraging for a continuance of prosperity, particularly in the sections where agriculture is the chief occupation.

Collections are causing some uneasiness, and financial conditions are unsettled. The monetary storm center shifted to St. Louis, and it was found necessary to transfer large sums from this city. Chicago and New Orleans also made demands, and the subtreasury facilities were utilized so freely that total shipments of currency from New York were suddenly brought up to the average for recent years, despite frequent assertions that the interior could take care of itself this season. Rates for money advanced, but foreign exchange declined, and securities exhibited a firm undertone, resisting influences that would have caused severe liquidation at any previous time this season.

Merchandise is freely distributed, and railway earnings for October thus far surpass last year's by 5.9 per cent and those of 1901 by 13.4 per cent. With less difference in volume of speculation bank exchanges at New York were only 21.5 per cent smaller than last year, while at other leading cities there was a gain of 3.9 per cent.

Farm Staples Fluctuate.

Farm staples have fluctuated somewhat irregularly during the past week, although net changes are not significant. A revival of activity and strength in cotton was started by dispatches telling of injury from frost and accelerated by an aggressive campaign of speculators for an advance. The upward tendency was checked by an unexpectedly large estimate of the total crop by a conservative British expert, and heavy port receipts endorsed his figures. Foreign buying fell off somewhat, and the attitude of domestic spinners was even less encouraging. As the season advances it becomes more apparent that neither speculative manipulation nor the exact extent of restriction of yield will be as influential in determining quotations as the demand for actual consumption.

Grain markets were chiefly responsive to financial reports from the southwest, no other influences proving sufficiently potent to cause variations of any extent. Crop reports continued satisfactory, and each week of favorable weather puts much late grain beyond danger. There are many indications that wheat is held back by growers, still higher quotations being anticipated, and western receipts for the week were 7,173,964 bushels against 9,278,078 last year, while for the season the movement falls a third below 1902 to date. Exports of wheat, flour included, were 4,276,618 bushels, compared with 5,805,973 bushels a year ago. Interior arrivals of corn were 3,030,490 bushels against 2,612,862 in the same week last year, while Atlantic coast shipments were 2,477,970 bushels, compared with 128,524.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for October aggregated $13,469,256, of which $8,181,032 were in manufacturing, $4,062,266 in trading and $1,226,958 in other commercial lines. Failures this week were 253 in the United States against 233 last year and 15 in Canada compared with 22 a year ago.

Preparations are on foot for great festivities to mark the arrival of the bride and bridegroom at Floors castle, the duke's seat in Roxburghshire, in December.

LODGE AND TURNER HOME

Refuse to Discuss Findings of Alaska Boundary Commission.

New York, Oct. 31.—On account of their official connection with the Alaska boundary commission, Senator Henry C. Lodge of Massachusetts and former Senator George J. Turner of the state of Washington declined to discuss the award of the tribunal on their arrival here.

Senator Lodge said that the members of the tribunal had been very handsomely treated while in London, but as one of the arbitrators he could not even venture to say that he was satisfied with the award and declined to say anything about the attitude of the Canadian commissioners in refusing to sign the award. He said the calling together of congress in special session was no surprise to him, as he had known of it before leaving the United States.

Joseph Pope, representative of the Canadian government and one of the assistant secretaries of the tribunal, said that the award was of course a disappointment from the Canadian point of view, but offered no further comment, appearing anxious, however, to ascertain how the decision had been received in Canada. He and Mrs. Pope left immediately for Ottawa.

THE DOMINICAN REVOLT.

State Department Sends War Ship With Instructions For Mr. Powell.

Washington, Oct. 31.—A cablegram received at the state department from United States Minister Powell at Santo Domingo reports that conditions in the republic are in a state of great disturbance.

The state department is making vigorous efforts to communicate with Mr. Powell by cable, but with very unsatisfactory results owing to the fact that the insurgents appear to be in possession of the land telegraph lines connecting the capital, Santo Domingo, with the cable station on the east coast.

Incidentally this also has interrupted communication with Venezuela. So, to guard against any further cable lapses, the state department is sending through the navy department written instructions to Minister Powell for his guidance during the revolution, and these will go forward on the Baltimore, which has sailed from Hampton roads directly for Santo Domingo.

Forty-five Drowned.

Yokohama, Japan, Oct. 31.—It is ascertained that forty-five persons out of 103 who were on board the steamer Tokai-Maru were drowned as the result of the sinking of that vessel after having been in collision with the Russian steamer Progress, off Hakodate, Japan. The engineer of the Tokai-Maru succumbed after having been picked up by the Progress. The mails and all the valuables of the sunken vessel were lost. The accident occurred at 4 a. m. six miles from Hakodate. The Tokai-Maru, which was a vessel of 1,100 tons, was approaching Hakodate when she collided in a dense fog with the Progress, of 870 tons, bound from Hakodate for Vladivostok.

Wrecked on Long Island Coast.

Freeport, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The schooner Belle Bartlett went ashore at Zack's inlet, east of the Short Beach life saving station. She was discovered by Patrolman Charles Whaley, who gave the alarm, and the life savers were turned out and brought the crew and passengers of the schooner to shore in the lifeboat. The Bartlett carried a crew of twelve men and also had ten passengers aboard who are on their way to Massachusetts. The Bartlett has a cargo of goat skins, bones and iron. The stranded schooner is said to be partly insured.

Quiet in Santo Domingo.

Santo Domingo, Oct. 31.—The political situation in this city is unchanged, quiet prevailing, but serious troubles may arise here at any time, and the presence of a foreign war ship is desirable. The Clyde line steamer Cherokee, from New York, has arrived here. She had been prevented by the Dominican government cruiser Independencia from calling at Puerto Plata, Samana and Macoris. She reports that the whole of the northern part of the island has joined in the revolutionary movement.

Mummy Dug Up in Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Seven feet below the surface in a gravel pit at Fifty-sixth street and South Park avenue the body of a man wrapped in carpet and placed inside a pine box has been unearthed by the police. When found the body was stretched in the box with both hands folded across the chest. It was in a mummified condition and evidently had been exposed a long time after death. In the bottom of the box a rusty sword with the point broken off was found.

BANKERS' TRAIN WRECKED.

Santa Fe Flier Goes Through Bridge in Colorado.

Lemberg, Galicia, Austria, Oct. 31.—Post from Pueblo, Colo., says: "East bound Chicago flier, No. 6, on the Santa Fe road, was wrecked at Aplahapa creek, four miles east of Fowler. The spikes had been removed from one rail on the bridge over the creek, and when the engine left the track one span of the bridge, 100 feet long, went down. Two cars with the engine fell into the creek. Engineer John Walker was badly scalded, but will live. One of the most seriously injured is John G. Benson of North Dakota. His face was crushed. Relief trains were sent to the scene of the wreck from Pueblo and La Junta, and the injured were taken to the latter place.

"The private car occupied by A. S. Kimberley and a party of eastern bankers returning from the annual convention of the National Bankers association at San Francisco was attached to the train, but so far as ascertained none of this party was injured. The wreck seems entirely inexplicable. The stream, a dry one, was spanned by a steel bridge, and the moment the locomotive of the east bound passenger train struck it the structure collapsed. The engine, two baggage cars and two coaches piled up in the creek bed, with the engineer plumed in his cab in a cloud of escaping steam. He was rescued by quick work."

Big Verdict For Breach of Promise.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 31.—Miss Henrietta Adams of Caswell, Mich., has been given a verdict of $30,000 against Robert Stuart Baker, a well known young society man of this city, for breach of promise. The trial has been one of the most sensational in the history of western Michigan. The romance which led up to Baker's proposing marriage to the young woman began when they were both students at Olivet college. Several hundred letters written to Miss Adams by Baker were read in court and a number from the young woman to the defendant were also introduced as evidence. Baker's letters were many of them very sensational and improper.

Fined For Disobeying Union.

Sydney, N. S. W., Oct. 31.—The arbitration court has fined the captain of the American barkentine Andromeda $250 and costs for refusing to employ union workmen and throwing overboard an order prohibiting the crew from unloading the vessel. Complaint was brought by the Wharf Laborers' union, which alleged that the captain was guilty of a breach of the court's award giving union labor preference. The captain said he had complied under protest, declared the court had no jurisdiction and announced that he would appeal to the authorities at Washington.

Tried to Smuggle in Chinamen.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 31.—Fourteen contraband Chinese and Harry Thomas and Fred Anderson, the white men who were piloting them into the country, have been arrested on San Juan Island and brought here. Thomas and Anderson are entirely unknown to the custom officers, who are thoroughly acquainted with the smuggling fraternity.
